

PRESS RELEASE

DESIGN AWARDS FOR EXCELLENCE IN STEEL CONSTRUCTION TO HONOUR THE BEST

MONTREAL (October 3, 2016) - The Quebec Region of the Canadian Institute of Steel Construction (CISC-ICCA) will host the 18th edition of the Design Awards for Excellence in Steel Construction as part of the 8th Quebec Steel Conference at the Pointe-à-Callière Museum (350 Place Royale) in Old Montreal on Friday, November 4, 2016 beginning at 6 p.m.

This gala event will recognize outstanding works of engineering and architecture that will inspire industry leaders and dedicated professionals across the province. The theme for this year's day conference, to be held separately in Quebec City at Laval University on Tuesday, October 25, is "THE CONTRIBUTION OF THE STEEL INDUSTRY TO THE WORLD OF CREATIVITY AND INNOVATION."

Numerous experts will present at the conference where attending professionals will benefit from a wealth of new information, networking with colleagues and visiting with exhibitors. These exhibitors will be industry leaders directly involved or related to the steel industry, including fabricators, suppliers, consultants, organizations, etc.

Those attending the Design Awards for Excellence in Steel Construction gala will hear from Ed Whalen, President of CISC-ICCA and Hellen Christodoulou, Regional Director of the Québec chapter of CISC-ICCA along with several prominent presenters.

"Creativity is not confined solely to the world of fine arts," said Christodoulou. "There are many creative minds in Quebec and across Canada that are using steel as their medium to design and build outstanding works of engineering that are not only inspiring to look at, but will remain useful for generations."

The Design Awards for Excellence in Steel Construction will recognize winners in the following categories:

- Bridge Projects
- Commercial/Institutional Projects

- Green Buildings
- Industrial Projects
- Projects Outside Quebec
- Residential and Renovation Projects
- Stairs/Architectural Walkways
- Works in Steel/Sculptures
- Young Engineers and Architects
- Jury Favourite
